At Long Close School, pupil exclusion is a rare occurrence. However, the two main areas for which this could happen would be:

- After discussions, several letters or the non-payment of fees could result in temporary or permanent exclusion.
- Repeated and totally inappropriate behaviour e.g. bullying, thieving, striking a teacher, or wilfully damaging school or other property.

Our Code of Conduct explains the sanctions school imposes for poor behaviour and attitude and exclusion is only used in extreme cases.

Parents' interviews would occur first in all cases.

In the academic year 2015-2016 there were no permanent exclusions.
